It is the way in which two people look at the same thing differently. Perhaps it is looking at things from another point of view. Yet again, it may be reflecting upon accepted beliefs, preconceived notions, or life experiences in new ways and coming to new understandings.

Webster's New World Dictionary, defines perspective as "a specific point of view in understanding or judging things or events, especially one that shows them in their true relations to one another."

The university experience is, at least in part, one of developing new perspectives. As young adults, our world is expanding, our friendships growing in number and depth. We are preparing for a future which calls for new perspectives. As Paul wrote in Corinthian, "once I thought as a child, but now I have put away childish things." Perspective, or rather a "change of perspective" is what our experience at Ohio Northern University is about.

Our first change of perspective came about as we moved away from what we called home. Some moved fifteen miles, others moved thousands of miles. Making our own decisions, deciding of our own schedules, doing our own laundry, are all among our experience of independence. These experiences begin to provide a new perspective as we continue to establish our own value system. We begin to look inward instead of towards our parents for guidance. For those about to graduate, this rite of passage is about to be complete. Once a child...no longer a child, truly a "change of perspective."

Graduation brings another "change in perspective." Who we are and what we know, will no longer be proven through tests, quizzes, nor class attendance. No longer will we rely upon Marriot to feed us, or a residence hall or Greek house to shelter us. It is time to type resumes, find jobs, choose new places to live, and start new families. It will be a time to put ourselves on the line and compete in the world on our own. It will be time for an adult perspective.

We invite you to reflect upon the many "changes of perspective" that have become part of you as a result of your Ohio Northern University experience. Take time to remember who you were and what you knew when you moved to Ada, and the different perspectives you have as a result of your time at O.N.U. If we have matured at all, we will have new perspectives on many things.

We make life as wonderful or as horrible as we want it to be. It is a matter of perspective. We hope this book will help us all recall those events which have given us a chance for "A Change of Perspective". Take time to read the pages, look at the pictures, and reflect upon what they tell. most of all take time to look inward and to celebrate a wonderful life which comes from a positive "change of Perspective."

PERSPECTIVE ON CAMPUS LIFE

A Change of...

All our lives we have viewed the world as our parents taught us. On September 4, 1994 many freshmen were forced to take on a new perspective as they set forth on their first adventurous year here at ONU. They quickly learned that the real world consisted of doing your own laundry, making your own bed, and studying, studying, studying!

The first quarter was a tough adjustment for most. Lost IDs, ruined clothes, and roommate spats were common in everyone's lives. The toughest adjustment, however, was the studying. No longer was studying something you did 15 minutes before a test, but it now dominated the bulk of everyone's time.

By the second quarter things began to get better. IDs were secured, clothes saved, and roommate situations were either reconciled or terminated. Studying slowly became a daily part of the college life routine. Freshmen began to accept this new perspective of life. Life is theirs now. They must make the choices affecting them and be responsible for their lives. Neither mom nor dad is around to tell them what is right and what is wrong. They must develop their own perspective on life and learn to become their own individual.

The usual conditions in which we see our parents while in school occurs when we go home. On the weekend of September 24, however, ONU made a change in these circumstances with its annual Parent's Weekend. This event brought parents of ONU students to Ada for the weekend to share in a variety of activities.

A faculty fair was held in McIntosh Center's Activities Room where students were free to bring their parents over and let them meet and talk with their professors. Other activities of the weekend included a home football game against Mount Union. Many parents of the football players along with other parents attended the game. Also a band concert was held in the Freed Center.

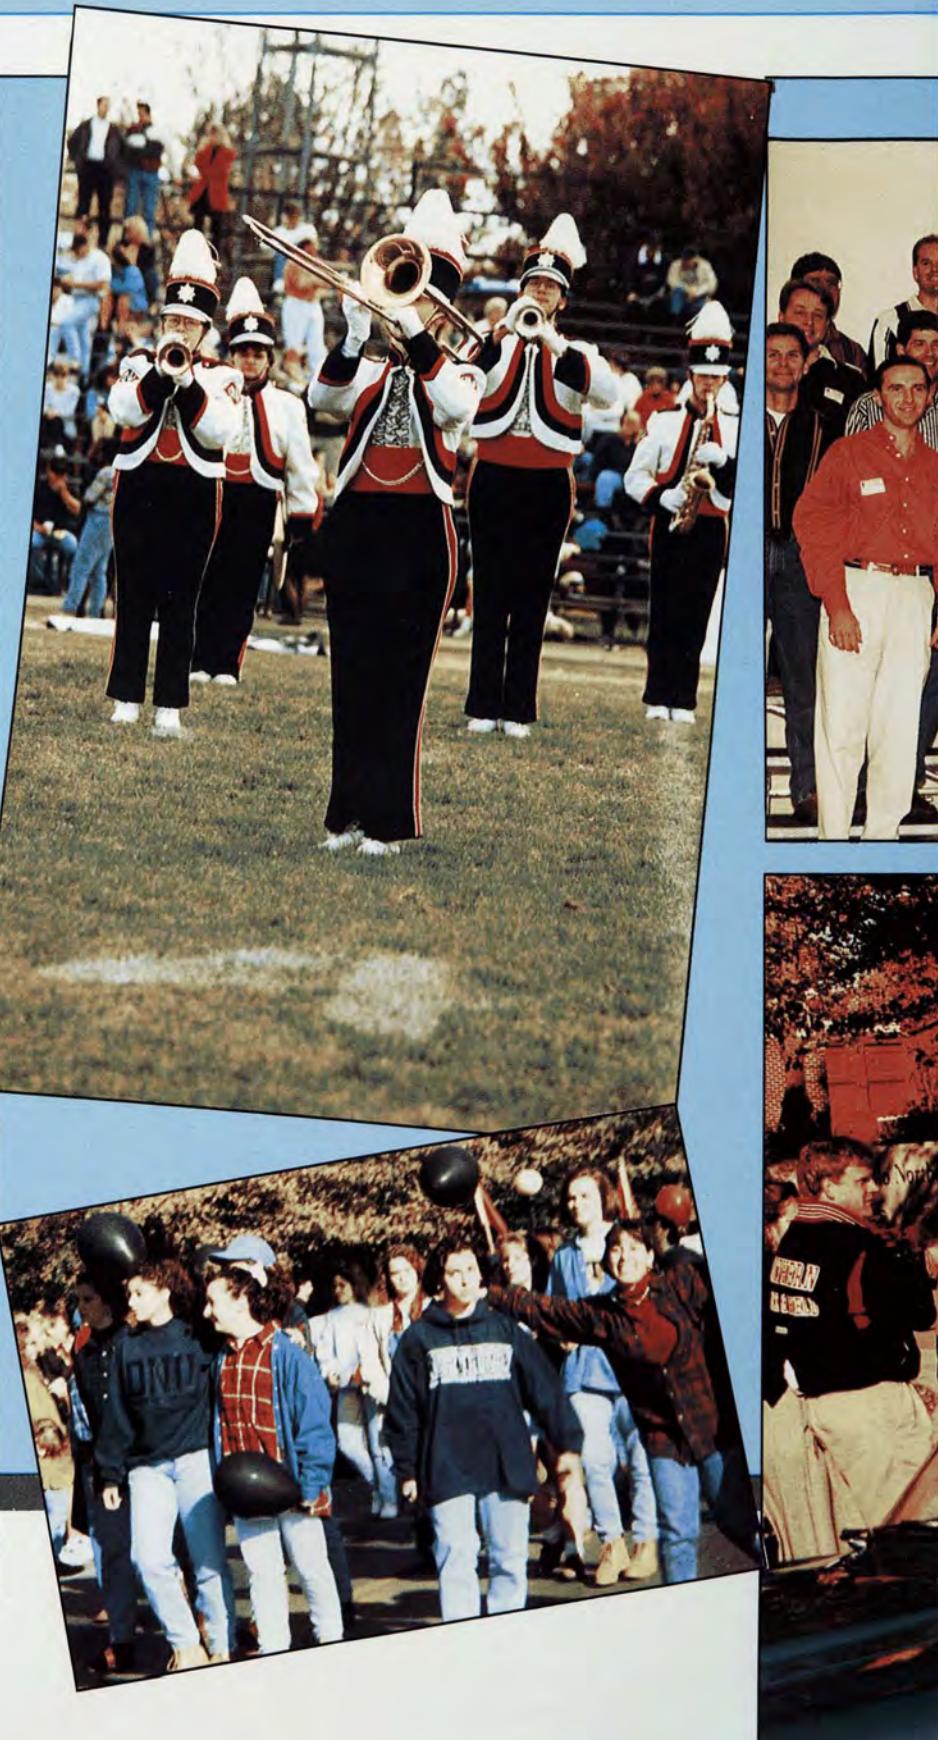

Furthermore the weekend also served as a good source of quality time for parents and their sons or daughters. Mom and Dad took them out to eat at some place other than the cafeteria or took them shopping for snacks and other college essentials. The weekend was a nice change for the students who were beginning to feel a little homesick by the third week of classes.

A Change of...

On the weekend of October 15, the Polar Bear Express came through ONU marking the annual homecoming weekend. To celebrate this affair many activities were planned as alumni, students, and parents came to visit.

Friday night the activities included Battle of the Bands and a bonfire to cheer on the Bears. Then early Saturday morning the parade ran down North Main through Ada to campus where many alumni and students watched. Throughout the rest of the day, alumni classes of 1989, 1984, 1979, 1974, and 1969 held reunions. Also many of Northern's sports teams were in action that weekend. The men's soccer team hosted Hiram and the women's volleyball team also played Hiram. Of course the football team was also in action against John Carroll University in a game that unfortunately ended in a 32 to 14 loss. Saturday evening's entertainment consisted of the marvelous Greg Brady in McIntosh Center and the Sha Na Na concert in the Freed Center.

Homecoming weekend served as a change of times for those alumni returning to ONU, and also those students presently attending ONU.

The biggest event of Saturday afternoon was the crowning of the 1994 homecoming queen and king. Those nominated for king were Ted Blackmore, Drew Buttermore, Charles McClusky, Tom Perkins, and John Donnelly. On the other hand, the nominees for queen were Allison Bower, Michele Bohizic, Michelle Power, Tracy Smith, and Amy Armstrong.

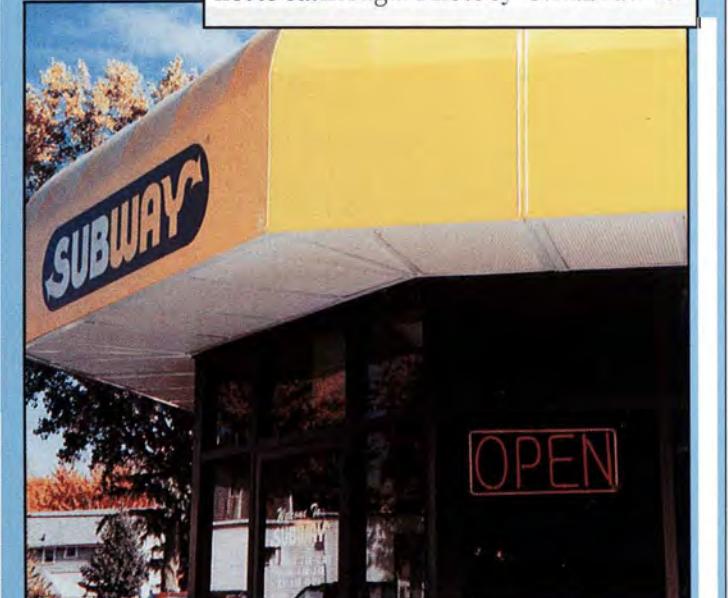

They waited throughout the weekend for the big moment which took place during half-time of the Bears' football game. Crowning was done by last year's king and queen, Jon Cook and Jen Gearhart. The new queen was Michelle Power from Meadville, PA, a third year pharmacy major. The king, who was not present at the time of the crowning, was John Donnelly from Conover, OH, a second year civil engineering student. After Michelle was crowned the royalty ceremonies were taken to the soccer field where John was playing.

The Polar Bear Express provided an eventful weekend filled with excitement for both the court and the ONU student body.

A Change of...

The opening of a new Subway provided an alternative for ONU students used to only having Hardee's when they chose not to eatin Saga. Photo by C. Kashawlic.

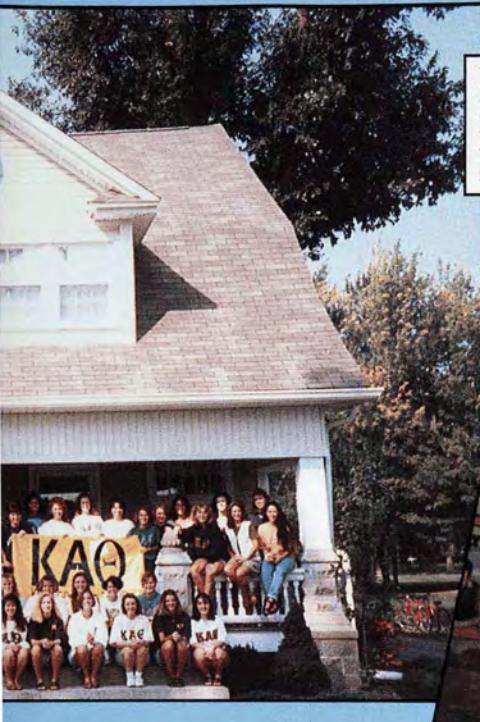

For most of us coming to Ada was a quite a culture shock. Although not all of us came from big cities like Columbus or Cincinnati, many were bigger than Ada and none were quite as unique. Even those who were returning to Ada for yet another year were surprised at the many changes. No longer was there only the choices of Columbia House Pizza or Hardee's, but over the summer a Subway came to town and Pisanello's was finally open for business; providing students with a change of pace. Another addition to the town and ONU community was the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority and their house situated along the edge of campus along Route 235.

However, some things never change. Hardee's still serves to bring student's hungers to a halt and good old Dairymart provides milk, cereal, pop, and other such snacks to ONU students. For entertainment the Ada Theatre still provides movies at a low cost (although it went up a $1!) and of course there is the Regal Beagle with pizza and all.

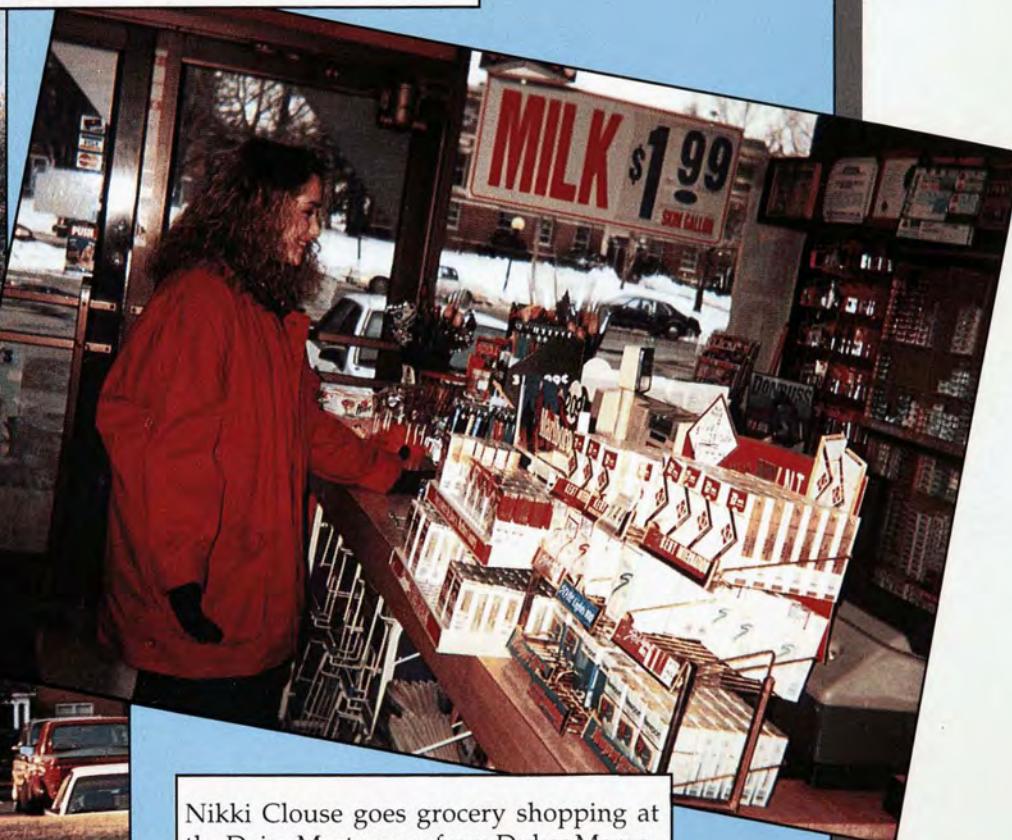

Despite its size, Ada still manages to provide students with their needs over the years here at ONU.

A Change of...

Being away from home in itself can be stressful, let alone when you have the added stress of exams and homework. The campus here at ONU has a great capability to alleviate some of this stress. It provides students with peace and tranquility by use of its wonderful landscaping. Thus, when one feels overwhelmed by their studies he or she can always take a walk along the beautiful campus and relax.

Besides its beautiful campus ONU also offers many events, one of which is the annual Mud Volleyball tournament. Another example is President Freed's quarterly visit with exam treats. On the day before the week of exams, Dr. and Mrs. Freed go around to the residence halls and pass out fruit, ice cream, and cookies and wish each student good luck on his or her exams. Activities on campus also include things like a Euchre tournament, the comedian Carrot Top, and Hypnotist Tom Deluca.

Through these and many other events provided by the student planning committee, students can always find a suitable activity that provides a change in life-styles and alleviate some of this stress while living in Hardin County, Ohio.

An addition of more classrooms to Dukes Memorial gave students a different landscape to look at on the way to class this year. Photo by Staff.

Ohio Northern has experienced many changes this year from the addition to the Dukes building to the rearranging of the ONU cafeteria. Yes, after many years the Marriot dining service has stepped in and rearranged the cafeteria. Some students find the change great while others are not so accepting. Then fraternity circle looked different to many students this fall when a mock accident was staged to keep people from drinking and driving. Another change of scenery was in McIntosh Center as it became Santa's factory during the holidays for the annual Christmas Arts festival.

The campus here at ONU is always changing from fall to winter to spring. Change is prevalent and permanent as this year ends and a new one begins.

The change of seasons at ONU always seems to add a beautiful brilliance to campus, as this view of Hill Memorial shows. Photo by staff.

A Change of...

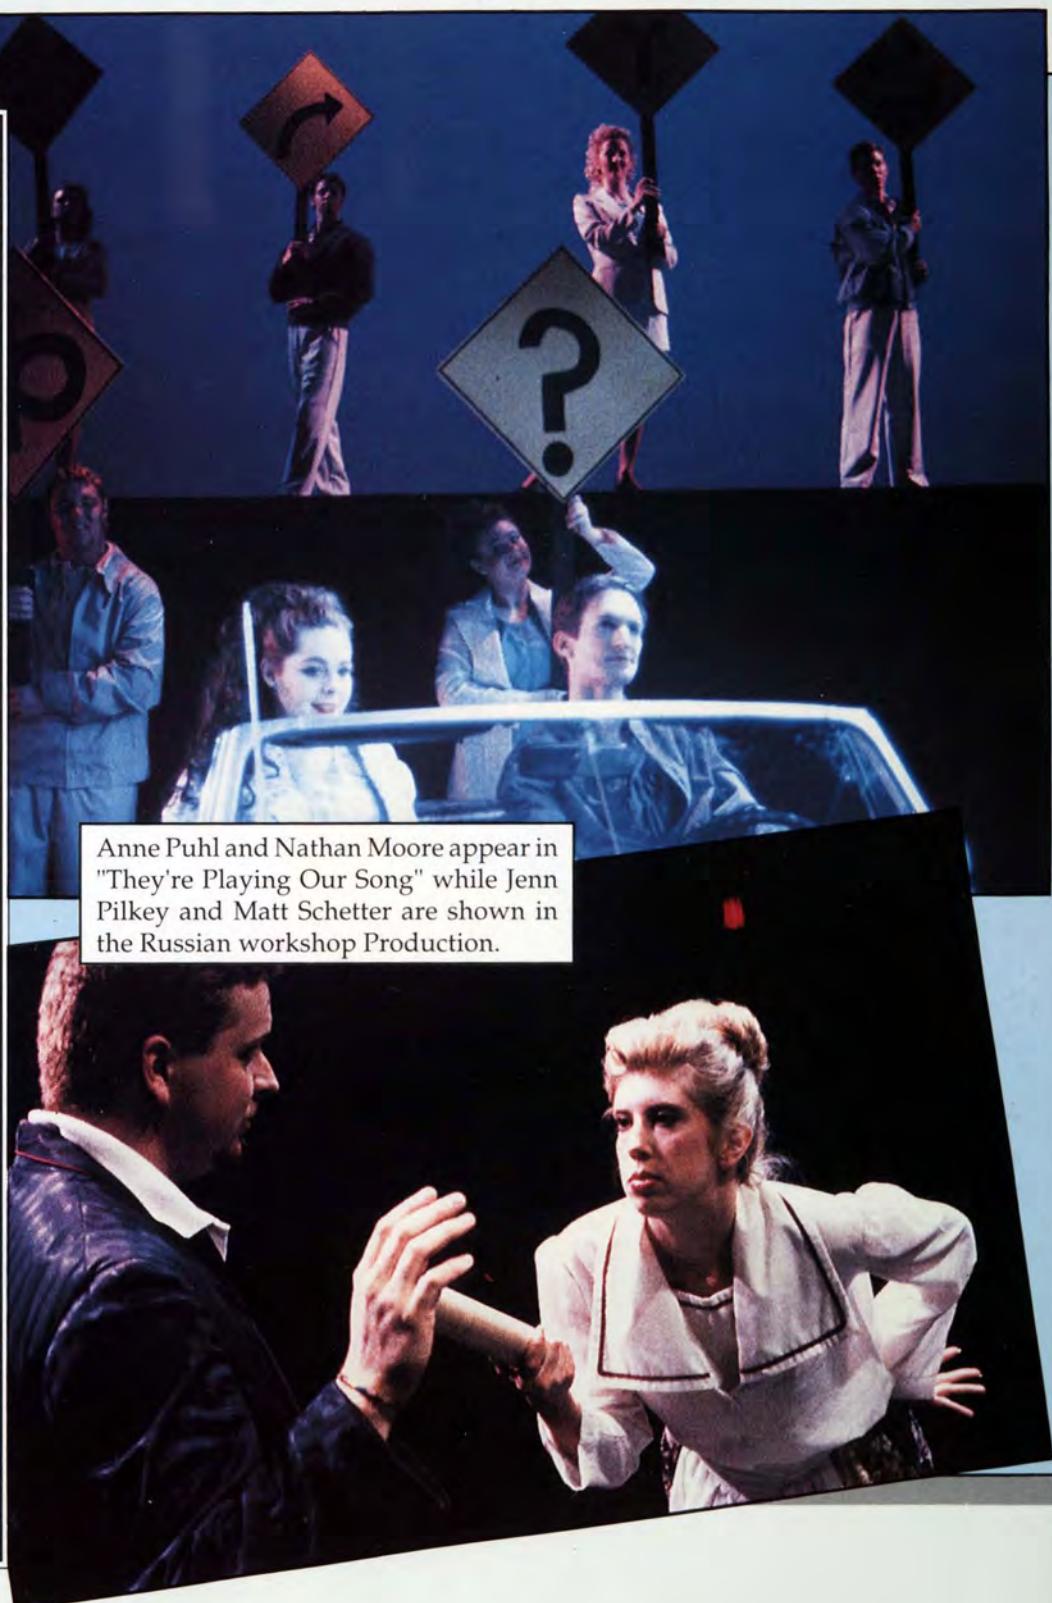

Throughout the year, ONU's theatre department has most definitely experienced a change of script, performing over 100 shows annually.

Long before anyone else thought of coming back to ONU this summer, the theatre students were working diligently on their summer production of "Annie." Then, through the fall they preformed many times including the One Act Play Festival which was student acted and directed; followed by "The Crucible" which depicted the Salem witch trials.

Winter performances included, "On Broadway.....On the Road III," "Stop the World-I Want to Get Off!," "They're Playing Our Song," and "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolfe?"

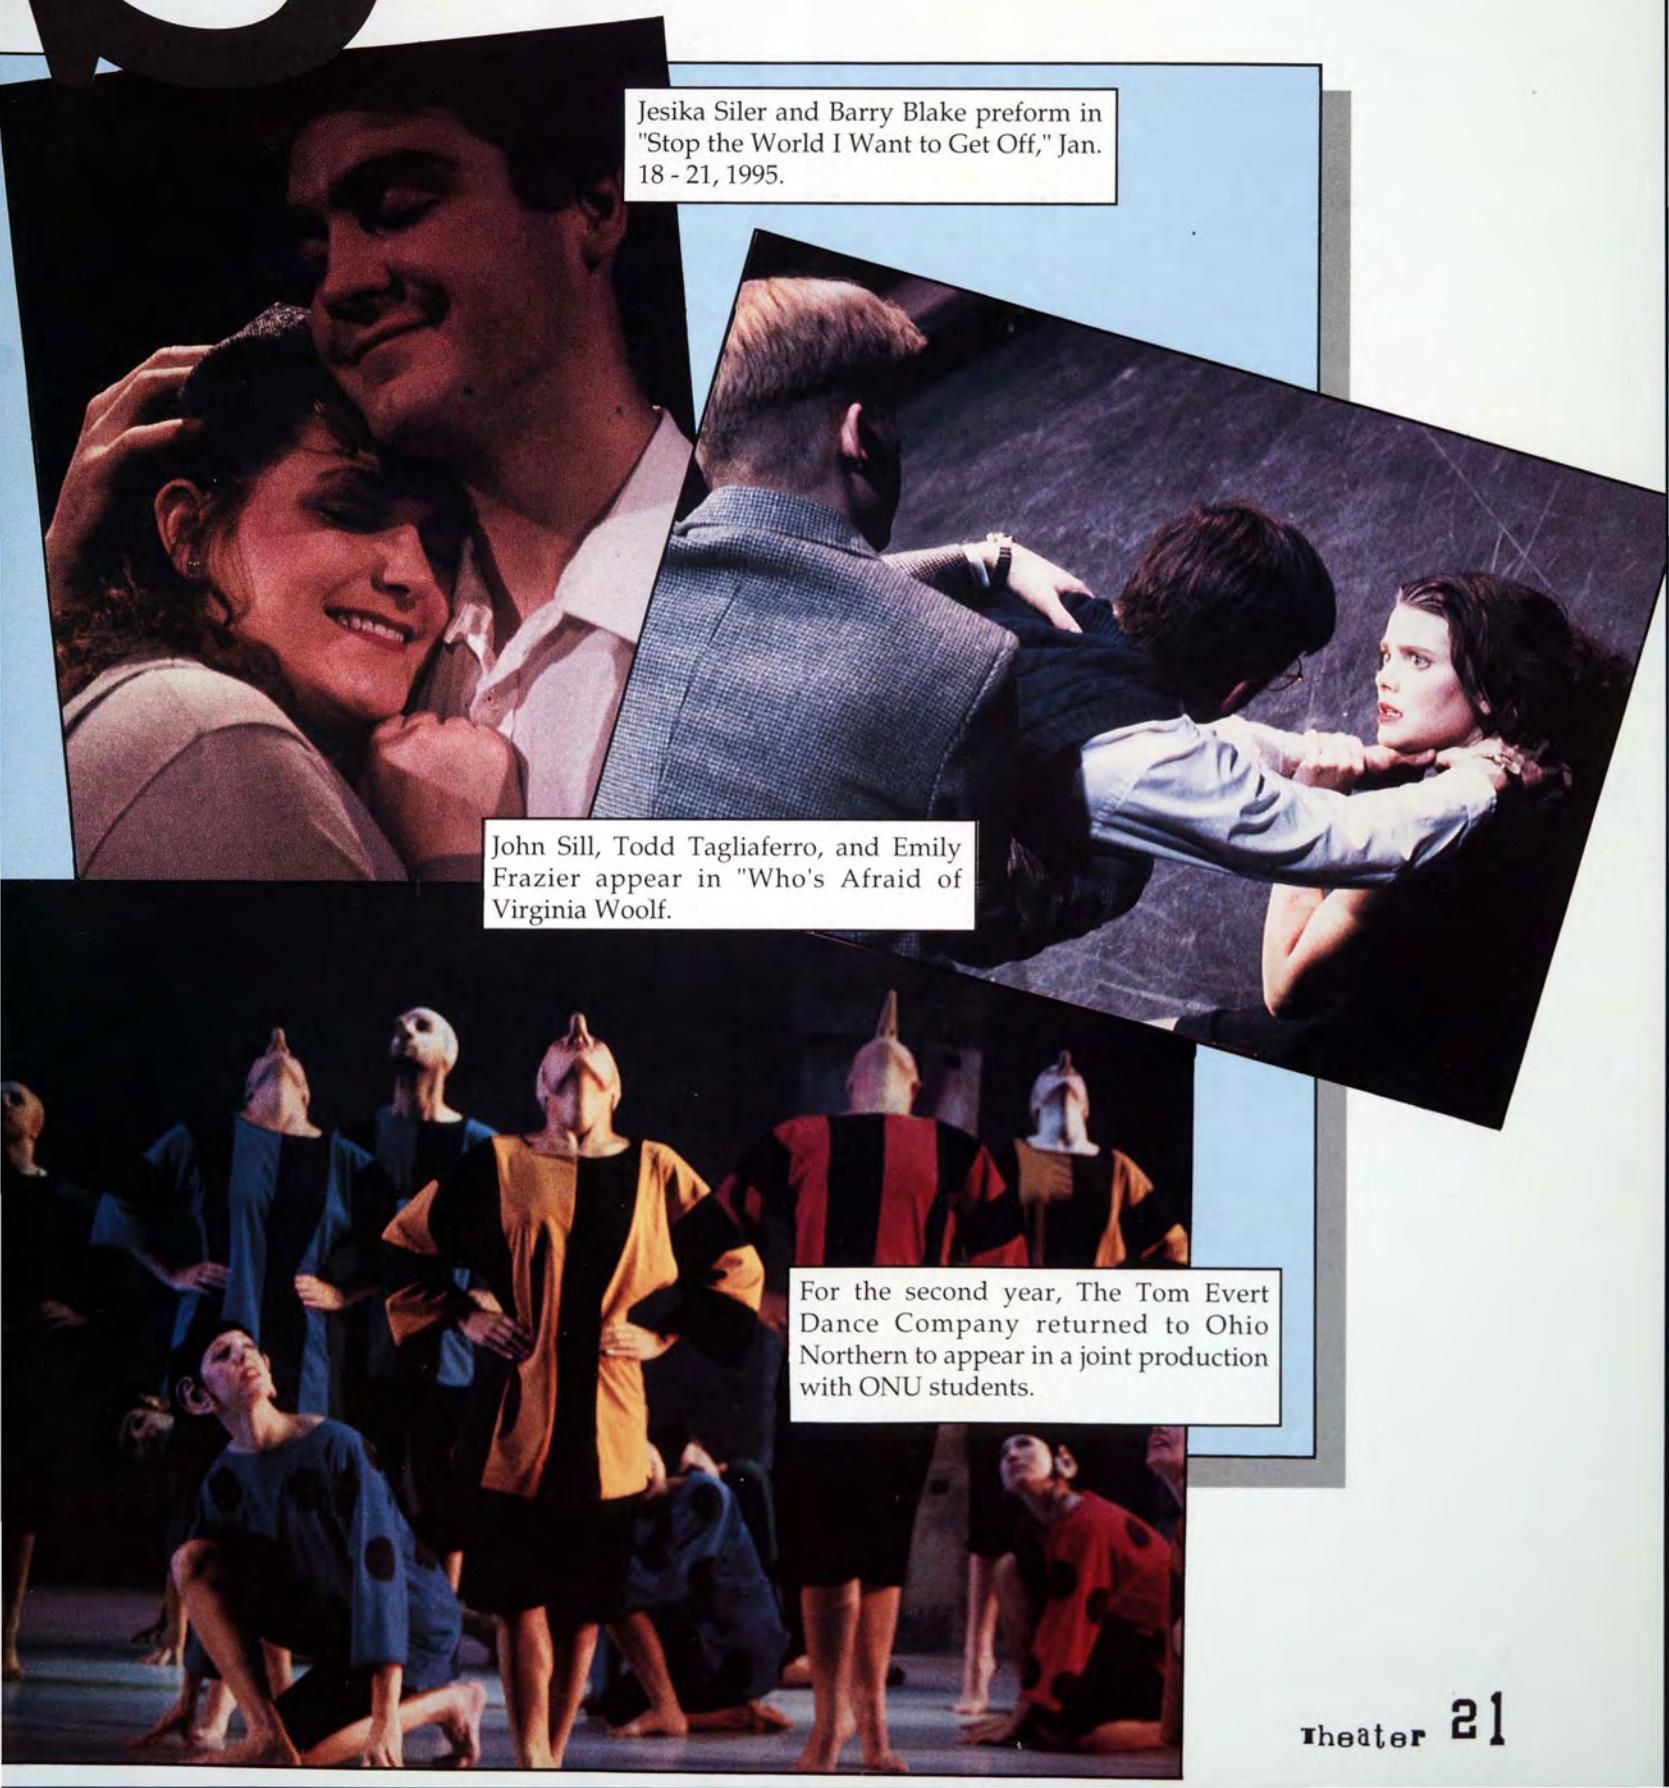

The Spring closed out with "Getting Out," "Rhythm in Shoes," the Russian Theatre Workshop Production, "The New Canadian Kid," and "The Mikado."

The theatre department continually changed their script moving to a production almost twice each month and sometimes three providing the entire community with entertainment.

Anne Puhl and Nathan Moore appear in "They're Playing Our Song" while Jenn Pilkey and Matt Schetter are shown in the Russian workshop Production.

On May 3, 1995 many students were awarded for their academic achievements at Ohio Northern University. Those who were not awarded got to sleep in on this Wednesday for there were no classes.

The awards began bright and early in the English Chapel with the University awards. Other awards throughout the morning were given by the College of Pharmacy, Business Administration, and the History department. At 11:00 the Honors day convocation took place in the Sports Center where many students and their parents attended. The speaker was Dr. Edward B. Fort, Chancellor of North Carolina Agriculture and Technology State University. Following this, a luncheon was served in the McIntosh Center Ballroom. The afternoon consisted of the engineering, theater, Arts and Sciences, and other awards.

The first-year men and women with a GPA of higher than a 3.5 were honored by induction into Alpha Lambda Delta (women) and the Phi Eta Sigma (men).

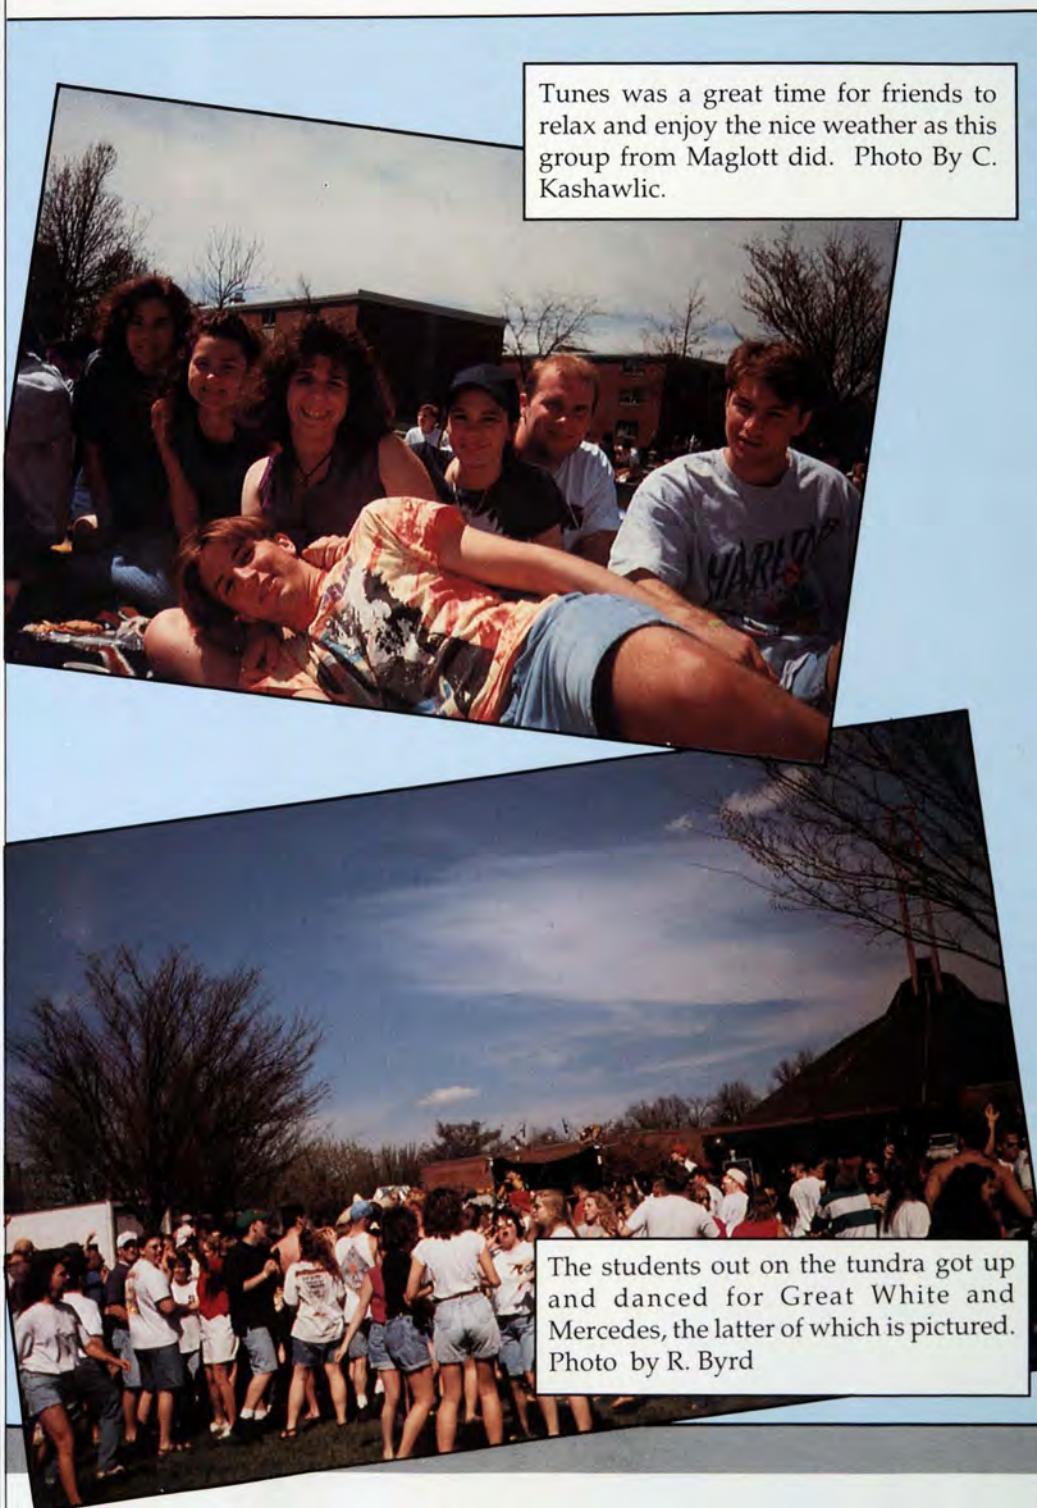

The awards provided an opportunity for many of Ohio Northern's hard-working students to be congratulated for their hard work by the faculty.

It was a beautiful sunny day in early May when ONU's tundra was filled with the sounds of numerous bands during the annual Tunes On the Tundra. Everyone enjoyed seeing the bands outside this year, rather than in King Horn as last year's weather forced the party inside. Tunes satisfied everyone's taste from country to pop to alternative to rock. The show began at 11:00 with the country band and followed throughout the day with Odd Girl Out (alternative), Mercedes (pop, top 40), and the evening was topped with rock's Great White.

Many other activities occurred throughout the weekend. The Maglott/Park/Founders complex and Roberts hall sponsored a cookout on Friday night. Maglott hall also had an American Gladiators event where Maglott residents mastered various obstacle courses on Saturday. During Tunes, dunking booths were set up where students could dunk their favorite professor or head resident as well as Virtual Reality set up in front of Lima where students could jump into their own 3-D world.

Tunes provided everyone with opportunity to relax and have some fun before finals began. Even ONU's cafeteria took advantage of the beautiful weather and served outside.

AGENDA

After what may seem an eternity of speeches, graduates will cross the podium to accept their diplomas. Photo by C. Kashawlic.

Most of us at ONU look forward to graduating and earning a bachelors degree in engineering, pharmacy, business , or the sciences. However, we often forget that there are students attending Ohio Northern that are earning their second degree in the Claude W. Pettit College of Law. These students study diligently and work toward the day when they come to the podium again as graduates.

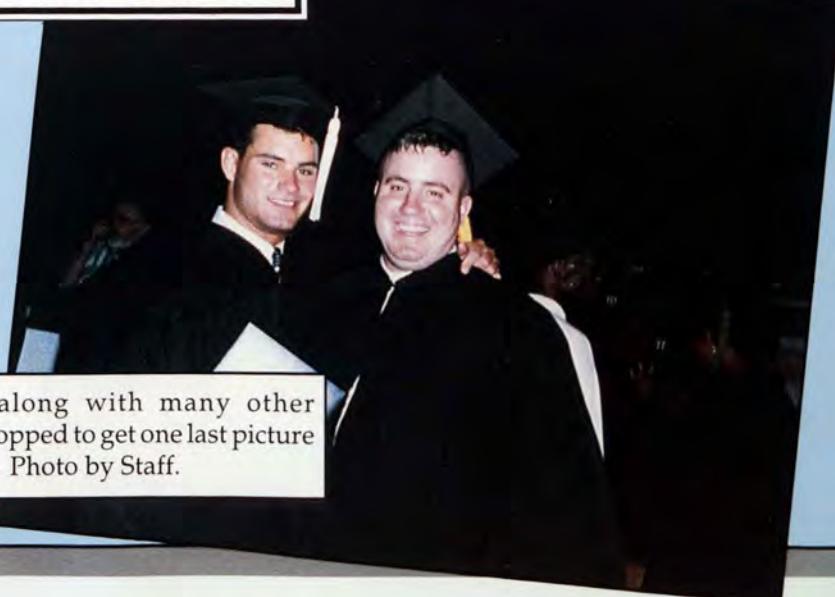

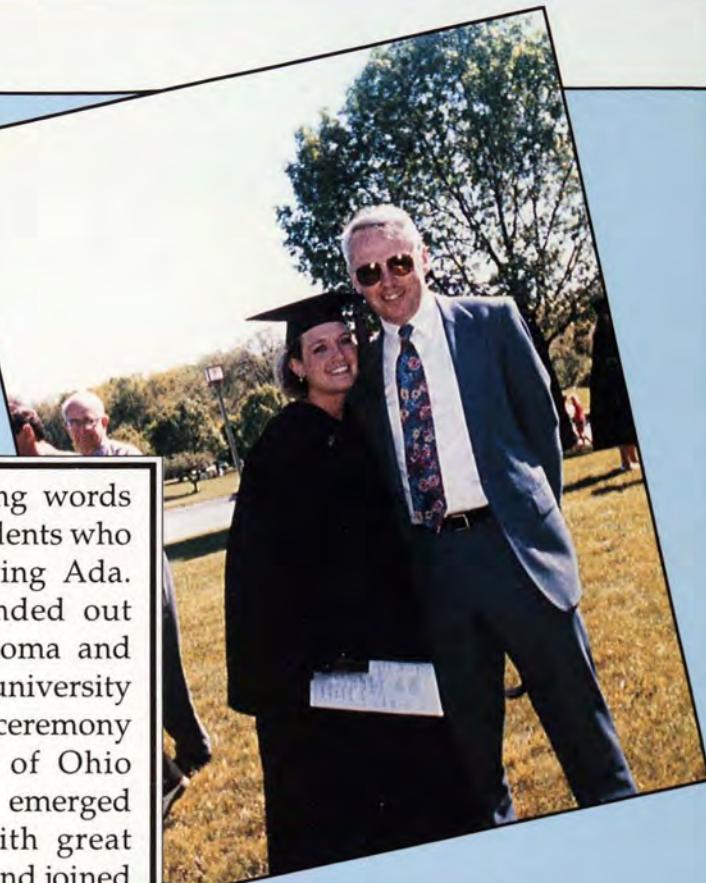

The annual law graduation was held on Sunday, May 14, 1995 in King Horn Sports Center at 2:00 P.M.. President DeBow Freed presided over the one hundred and tenth commencement exercises here at Ohio Northern University. During the ceremony United States Senator R. Micheal DeWine gave the keynote address, followed by student, Mr. Robert C. Folland's graduating speech. Later after remarks by Albert T. Quick, Dean of the College of Law, diplomas were awarded by President Freed bringing and end to the graduates' student status.

A Change of...

Ideas... Something you can put no limit on. Our professors are always driving us to express our ideas. Many of us have no idea what the world will bring after graduation, but everyone has an idea what they would like to do after college. So what do we do with all these ideas? They're the reason we all gathered in Ada, Ohio to attend a university instead of being satisfied with our high school diplomas. They will continue to drive us to attain goals in the days to come. They allow us to make a valuable contribution to our world. For these reasons, the faculty and staff honor those who have attained a standard of higher learning in which these thoughts and ideas represent a person who has become a graduate of Ohio Northern University.

Parents and friends filled King Horn Sports Center on May 21, 1995 to celebrate the achievements of the graduates after their four or five years at ONU. During the ceremony a suitable atmosphere was produced by the talents of the university singers and symphonic band. Due to illness, Dr. Junita Kreps, former Secretary of State, could unfortunately not deliver her address as scheduled.

However, encouraging words were given to the students who would soon be leaving Ada. President Freed handed out each graduate's diploma and then soon after the university hymn was sung, the ceremony ended. Graduates of Ohio Northern University emerged from King Horn with great ideas of life to come and joined loved ones for the reception.

First came elementary school, then junior high, high school, and now a university. For many of us, sometimes it may have seemed that we would be in school forever. For those seeking a postgraduate degree, there will be even more classes in the years to come. But for most, graduation from Ohio Northern will signify the biggest transition in their lives yet. Yesterday a student, tomorrow a member of a society looked upon ominously as "The Real World."

It is a change of all aspects of life, not simply having to go into the work force. Friends will part, but not forget. Moving day will come, and parents will be able to offer advice but no longer protect. For on this day graduates leave the world of their childhood, and new lives will begin.

I came to Ohio Northern University in the fall of 1994. All my life I spent in big cities such as Moscow which has a population of about fifteen million people. That was the first, but maybe not the greatest difficulty for me in Ada. The greatest difficulty I had was the use of the English language. I still have some problems with it.

There are a lot of problems that my country has had in recent periods of its history. One of them is Russia does not have enough knowledge about a free market economy to effectively participate in such an economy. The classes that I have found here will help me not only to find a good job, but also help to improve Russian economy and through it develop Russian - American relationships. For example, the finance classes, particularly Portfolio Management, Managing Financial Institutions, Money and Banking, and International Financial Management will help me to get a job in the Russian banking industry. Before I came to ONU I worked for a bank and saw many instances when knowledge from these classes would have been beneficial.

Overall, my stay here has been enjoyable, educational, and relaxed. I think the exchange program that was developed by the dean of the College of Business Administration, Mr. T. Harris and Associate Dean Mr. R. Meininger is a great idea. The connections between Russians and Americans will help us to understand each other better and help abolish the fears of war that both our countries had during the last 20 - 30 years. I believe that we will never have the stupid situations such as the "Cold War" again. I am thankful that I received this chance to come and experience the United States and particularly ONU. I will recommend other Russians to participate in this program as possible.

NATIONALITY

How has studying abroad changed my perspective on life? When I decided to study in Australia, common responses were: "What?! Why? How? Are you sure? We'll see." Well the night before I left, I asked "What if I don't go? "What if?" That's a question many of us ask. Had I not gone, I would have missed, to put it simply, the experience of a lifetime - and not even known it. I learned that my understanding and appreciation for the differences of the worlds people was not as complete as I thought. I learned to appreciate Our differences and similarities, and I learned about myself. But most importantly, I learned not to ask "What if?," but to say "I want to know; Let's find out."

The easiest way to change your perspective on the world is to change your location in the world. The most frightening day of my life was the day I boarded the plane that would take me to Europe. I was leaving all that was familiar to me in order to study at L'Universite des Sciences et Technologies in Lille, France. I would be away from my family, my friends, and my country for six months.

Although I did not realize it at the time, this turned out to be the most wonderful experience of my life. The friends that I made there and the sites that I explored can never be equaled. Sometimes you could just tell that I was "the American." I dressed a little different (I wore a baseball cap), or I used some strictly American slang. But at other times, we all just bonded together and it didn't matter where we came from or what language we spoke - we were just friends. I learned more than just the French language. I learned about myself and my relationships.

It was exciting to discover which of my preconceived ideas about Europe and its citizens were true and which were completely wrong. I've learned to be more open-minded, confident, and to appreciate everything that the Lord gives us. My perspective on so many things has changed. One day this experience might help me to obtain a career in International business. But even if it doesn't, it has already given me true friends from every corner of Europe and memories that will be held close to my heart for all time.

The past four years at Ohio Northern university have been a very memorable experience for me, an experience that I will always cherish forever. It would not have been possible if it wasn't for my friends and their support. I also became a part of the Sigma Phi Epsilon brotherhood, which really helped me socially and academically. I would also like to thank all my professors who really helped me in achieving academic success.

On the weekend of April 21-23 many little ones were running around the ONU campus for it was the annual Lil' Sibs weekend here at ONU. During this time students' brothers and sisters could come up and spend the weekend.

The University hosted many activities to keep these little ones entertained. On Friday a comedy show was held in The White Bear Inn followed by a dance at the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity house.

Everyone was up early on Saturday to bowl and shoot pool over at the McIntosh Center for free. After that they tie-died shirts and participated in craft making. The Delta Zeta Sorority sponsored cookie decorating and King Horn was open the rest of the morning for open gym where any sibs or students could attend. On Sunday Maglott hall offered their sibs a Super Sundae-Sunday party where they filled a gutter full of ice-cream and offered students spoons and over thirty different toppings.

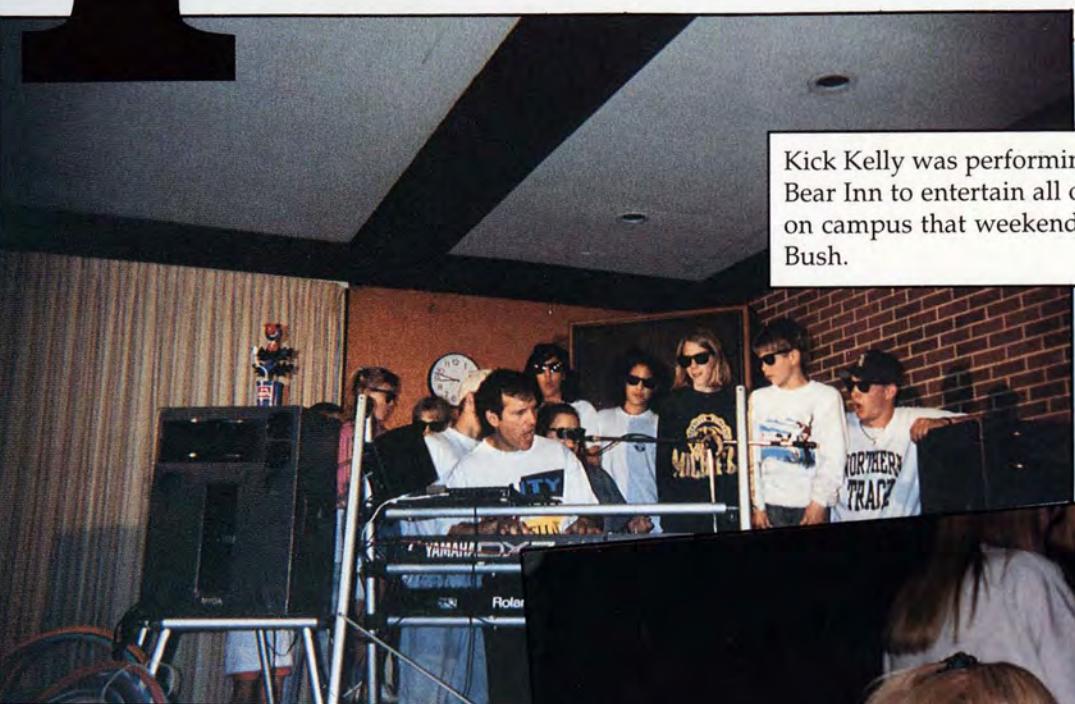

The weekend allowed for much bonding time between sibs without parents around. Everyone seemed to thoroughly enjoy the weekend although it was nice to be able to send the sibs home at the end of the weekend.

Living in Ada can take some getting used to, especially when winter never seems to end. When the bitter wind and snow is screaming across tundra few venture outside except to head towards King Horn or academic buildings for class and recreation. But inevitably, spring does come and with it a transformation around campus.

People emerge from the residence halls and begin playing frisbee, football, or soccer on the tundra and the sidewalks are once again filled with rollerbladers. On the other hand, some simply lay out to bask in the sun and enjoy the change in weather. Others take advantage of nicer weather to study outside, while engineering, biology and other majors study the landscape for class projects.

Also, the natural side of campus begins to change as new flowers and plants are put in, and the grass gets greener. Furthermore, you will commonly see ducklings and goslings wandering about behind their parents. All around campus activities pick up as life springs back into Ohio Northern for another year.

The American Society of Mechanical Engineers is the largest mechanical engineering organization in the United States.

I.E.E.E.

The I.E.E.E., the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers, is the largest engineering society in the world for electrical and electronics engineers. Each year, thousands of electrical standards are published by the I.E.E.E. for use by businesses across the nation.

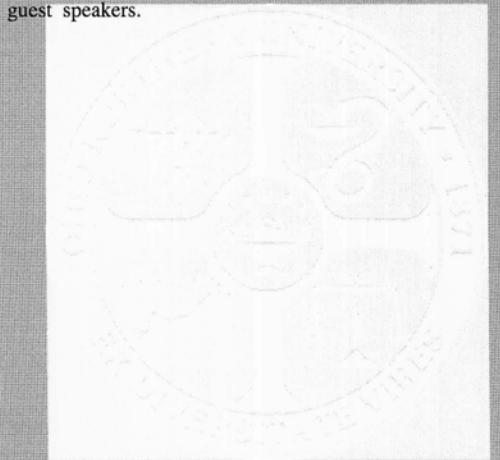

The ONU branch of the I.E.E.E. meets monthly. Guest speaker topics have included the Hipaci helicopter power system, electrical safety, and patent law. Tours taken by the group have included numerous factories and the David Besse Nuclear Power Plant. Additionally, the I.E.E.E. hosts the annual soldering seminar for electrical engineering majors.

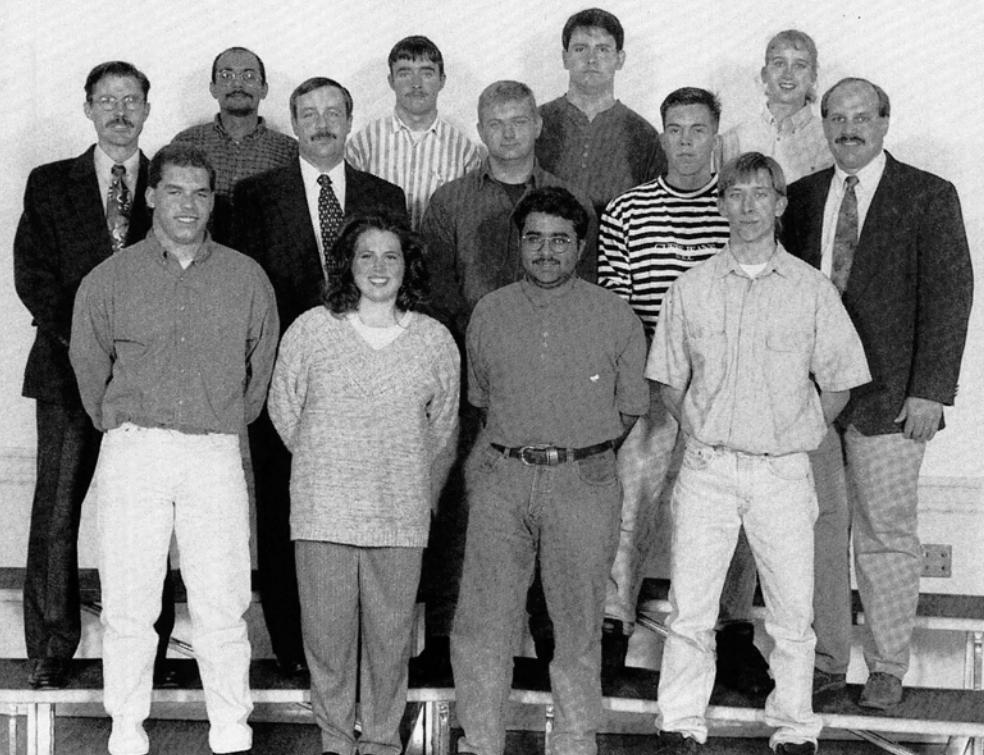

J.E.C.

The Joint Engineering Council serves as the policy making branch of the College of Engineering. Each class in each college has a representative on the council. Activities of the council include planning Engineering Week, and hosting guest speakers.

A CHANGE OF

Throughout this book, I hope that you have noticed a few things that have been designed from a different perspective than in the past. But more importantly, I hope that you may learn to see some aspects of your life in a different perspective. How many of us have been told by our parents that when we are older we will thank them for punishing us or prohibiting us from doing something? By looking at situations from another person's perspective, we are able to better communicate and build strong relationships.

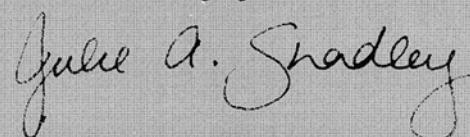

I believe that everything that happens in our life is for a reason. We all have choices. We can use an event in order to help us grow or it can hurt us. We should come to college and take full advantage of all its opportunities. Through the people we meet and the activities that we participate in, we can mature and develop our characteristics into what we desire to be.

Even the aspects of our lives that are less than enjoyable can teach us, when relationships end, we can realize how that relationship has helped us to grow into the person that we now are and use it to make our next relationship even better.

Take full advantage of life. Never waste an opportunity to tell someone that you love them or to fulfill your most desired dream. By living your life to the fullest extent, your perspective will be so much more positive and there will never be any regrets. And what else is college for, but to prepare us to live our lives to the utmost???

Sincerely yours,

Julie A. Shadley,
Co-editor

Frank Corder suffered from depression, had a history of drug and alcohol abuse, and probably was suicidal. But nothing may ever explain why the Maryland trucker stole a small plane near Baltimore and crashed into the White House lawn shortly before 2AM on September 15, 1994. Corder, 38, died in what one federal investigator described as "a pretty pathetic thing--a final act of desperation." Neither President Clinton nor his wife and daughter were home when Corder, flying at treetop level, breached restricted air space around the White House and smashed into a magnolia tree on the South Lawn. The single engine plane came to rest against the mansion wall and burst into flames. Corder had taken antidepressant medications, and friends and relatives said he was discouraged by the recent breakup of his marriage and his father's death.

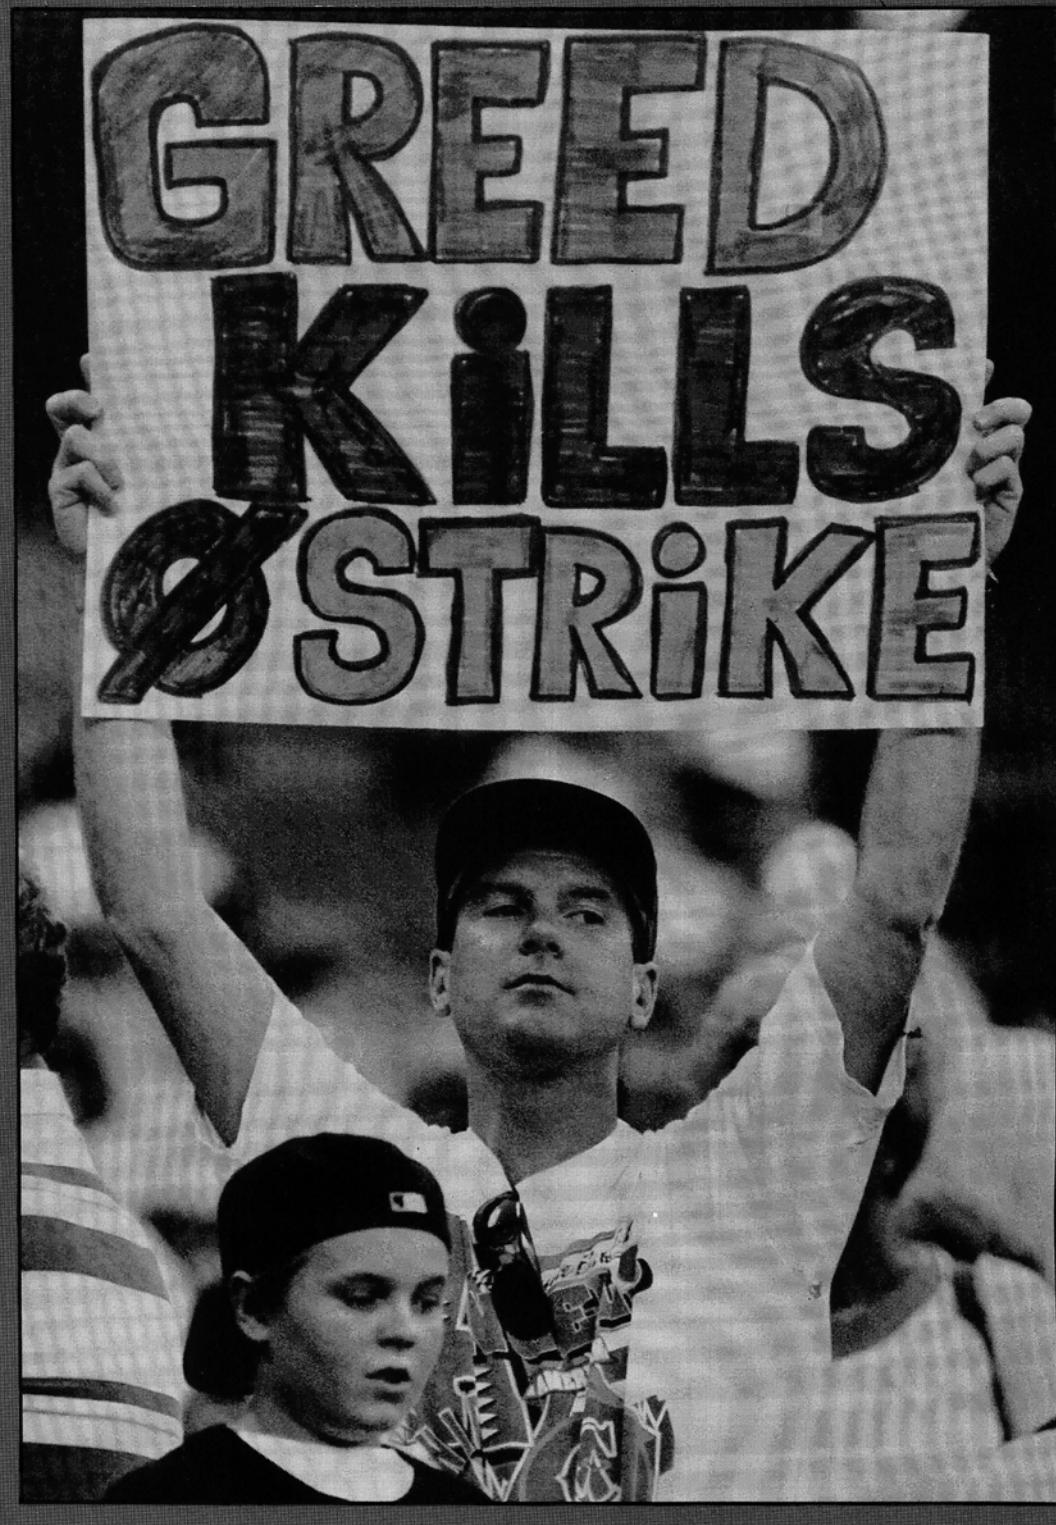

Chechen rebels have stung the Kremlin with bitter truths: Big is not always better, the desire for independence is a powerful weapon, and Moscow's military machine can be made to bleed.

Outmanned and outgunned, the Chechens' fierce resistance has stunned and humiliated the Russian army and made fools of generals desperate "for victory."

The furious Russian attempt to destroy Grozny and topple Chechen President Dzhokhar Dudayev has only unified the Chechens, a nation of more than 160 clans usually feuding among themselves.

Each day, Russia throws more troops and firepower at the Chechens to no avail. After sending in tens of thousands of troops, victory eludes the Russians.

The 1994 baseball season ended not with a home run or a strikeout, but with a conference call and a fax. On the 34th day of the major league players strike, the team owners canceled the rest of the season, including the playoffs and the World Series. "This is a sad day," said acting commissioner Bud Selig in a fax distributed to the news media. He got no argument. Not from Tony Gwynn of the San Diego Padres, who lost his chance to bat .400. Not from Matt Williams of the San Francisco Giants, who lost his shot at Roger Maris' home run record. Not from superstars Barry Bonds and Ken Griffey Jr., who lost more salary in a day than most Americans earn in a year. And certainly not from fans, who suffered through a Fall without a World Series for the first time since 1904.

It rained. Thousands crashed the gates. people with tickets couldn't get in or had to wait for hours. Portable toilets overflowed. Food occasionally ran short. Drugs were everywhere.

Woodstock '94 looked like the original 1969 rock festival -- right down to the fans, who wouldn't have missed it for the world.

Promoters set up distant parking lots and shuttle buses for the 200,000 people who paid $135 each for tickets -- advance sale only. But about 350,000 people showed up. Many ticket holders couldn't find a parking space, and some walked up to 12 miles to get to the concert. A few gave up and went home. On stage, Bob Dylan, who did not play in 1969, sang "Just Like a Woman." Joe Cocker wailed "With A Little Help From My Friends," just like 25 years ago. Melissa Ethridge impersonated Janis Joplin, a late veteran of Woodstock I, in "Piece of My Heart."

When it was over, the rain-drenched and mud-covered lumbered home from the sloppy fairgrounds looking like the walking dead -- who died smiling.

A string of Pacific storms led to the deaths of at least 11 people and caused more than $300 million in flood damage across the state of California in January 1995.

The storms battered much of the state, from the wine country north of San Francisco to the beaches of Malibu in the south, leaving downed power lines, leaking gas lines and hundreds of dead livestock.

In Humboldt County, authorities called on the National Guard to help them collect the rotting carcasses of sheep and dairy cattle that floated down the Eel River.

Gov. Pete Wilson said in his State of the State address, "We've conquered every challenge that man or Mother Nature could throw our way."

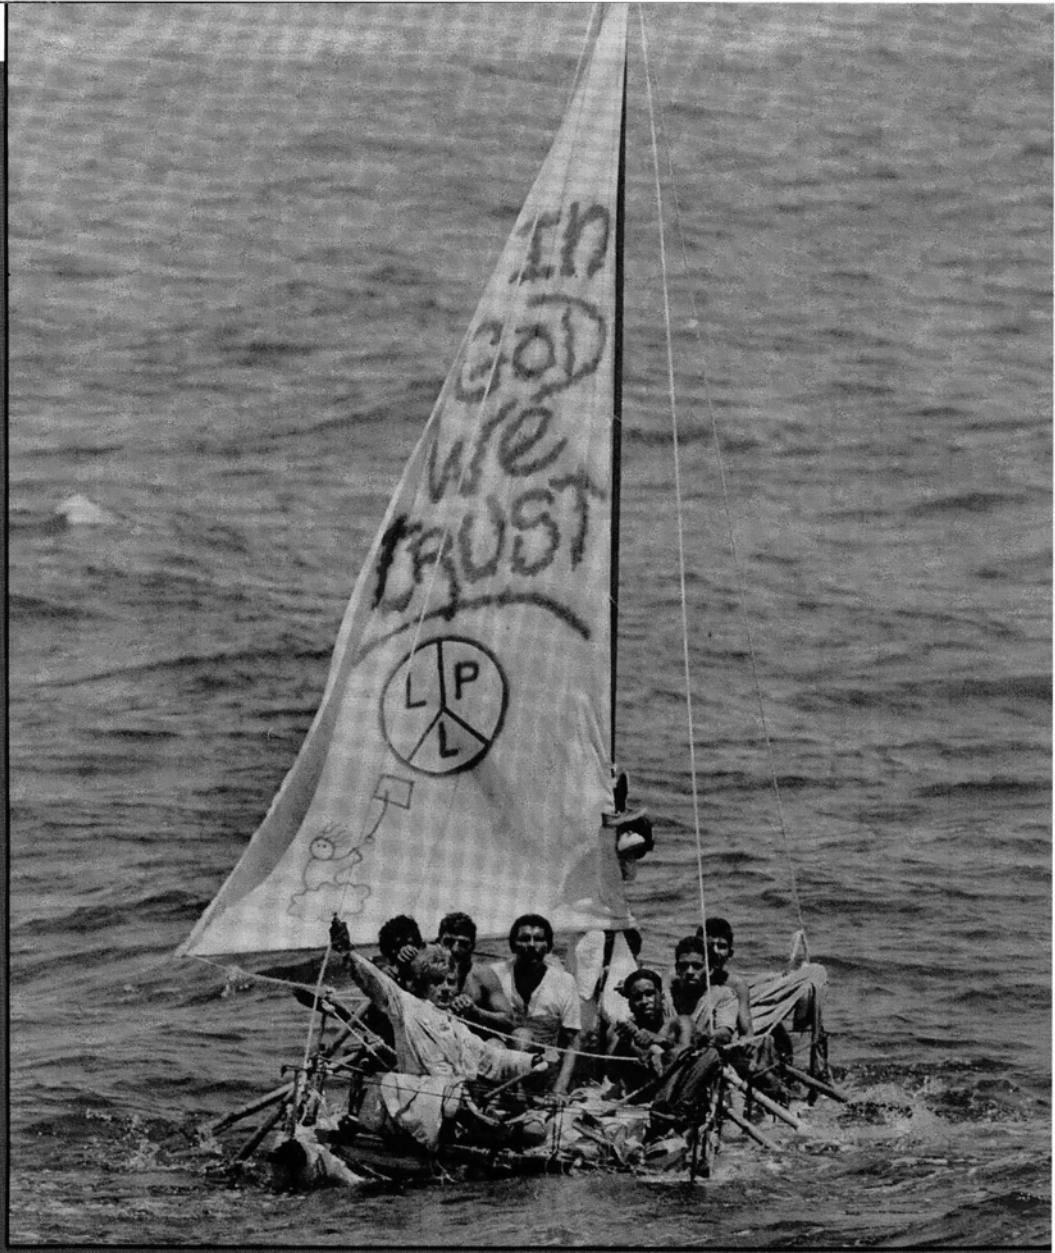

They headed up north on almost anything that would float, including rafts made of the flimsiest materials: oil drums, inner tubes, wooden planks.

They were Cuba's boat people—tens of thousands of people desperate to come to the United States to escape the poverty and hunger of their increasingly isolated island Communist nation.

Many did not make it because of storm, sinkings, or the U.S. Coast Guard, which intercepted more than 1,000 of the crafts in one day in early September.

But the flood of migrants receded shortly thereafter. Reversing a 28-year-old policy of not granting Cubans asylum, the United States agreed to admit at least 20,000 a year.

In return, Cuban leader Fidel promised to halt the flight of boat people. Police gave rafters a few days to get their crafts off Havana's beaches and made sure no new ones were drawn up.

Brazil's offense got all the attention beforehand, but its defense wound up stopping Italy--and winning the World Cup, soccer's ultimate prize. Diving to his left, Brazilian goalkeeper Claudio Taffarel knocked out Daniele Massaro's shot in the penalty kick tiebreaker to set the stage for Brazil's victory. "Penalty kicks are a lottery," said the goalie. "It doesn't show which team is better. You guess right, and it looks easy." Taffarel was merely the anchor of a defense that held Italy scoreless for 90 minutes of regulation play and 30 in overtime. Ultimately it was a team defense that gave Brazil its fourth world title. Taffarel said he wasn't the hero: "All 11 players are."

It was a match made in tabloid heaven: The child of one of the two biggest stars in rock history married the other biggest star in rock history.

Lisa Marie Presley, Elvis's only child, got hitched to the reclusive Michael Jackson. After weeks of dodging photographers outside Jackson's Trump Tower apartment in New York City, the couple made a very public coming out: They opened the MTV Music Video Awards ceremony, broadcast live from the Radio City Music Hall.

After an announcer intoned, "Please welcome Mr. and Mrs. Michael Jackson," the newlyweds strolled out onto the stage. The couple held hands during their brief appearance and exchanged a long kiss as the audience cheered wildly.

"I'm very happy to be here," Jackson said. "And just think, nobody thought this would last."

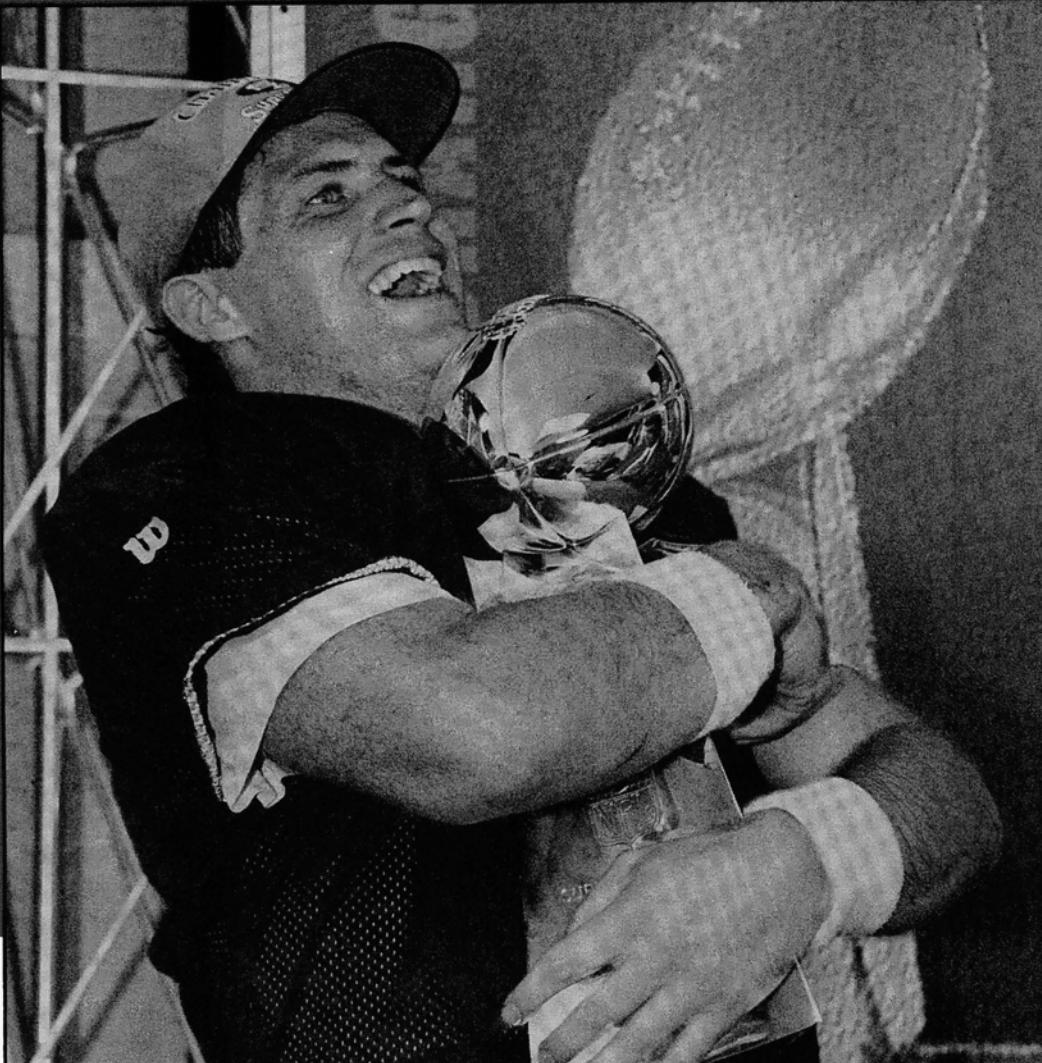

The San Francisco 49ers scored early and often on January 29 to defeat the San Diego Chargers 49-26 in a Super Bowl that quickly turned into the rout the experts had predicted.

For 49ers quarterback Steve Young, the victory not only put his name in the record book but allowed him to escape the ghost of his predecessor, Super Bowl hero Joe Montana.

Young, unanimously named the game's most valuable player, passed for 325 yards without an interception and ran for 49. His six touchdown passes broke the Super Bowl record of five that Montana set five years ago.

"Whatever critics he may have had, he proved tonight that he's one of the greatest quarterbacks of all time," 49ers coach George Seifert said of Young.

Japan's nightmare of a disastrous urban earthquake came true on January 17, 1995, when a powerful quake tore through several western cities, toppling hundreds of buildings, touching off raging fires and killing more than 5,000 people.

The country had been rattled by a series of strong quakes since late December, when the quake with a magnitude of 7.5 jolted northern Japan.

The city of Kobe, the site of the worst destruction, is a gateway for more than 12 percent of Japan's export.

Newt Gingrich wanted to be speaker of the House for years before he managed to win a House seat, and he long ago laid plans for the Republican takeover most of his colleagues considered an impossible dream.

This is the Georgia congressman's season of triumph. He is celebrating it in the typical contradictory fashion--high-minded one moment, flamboyant the next. He has said himself he needs to tone down his style, but he hasn't yet taken his own advice.

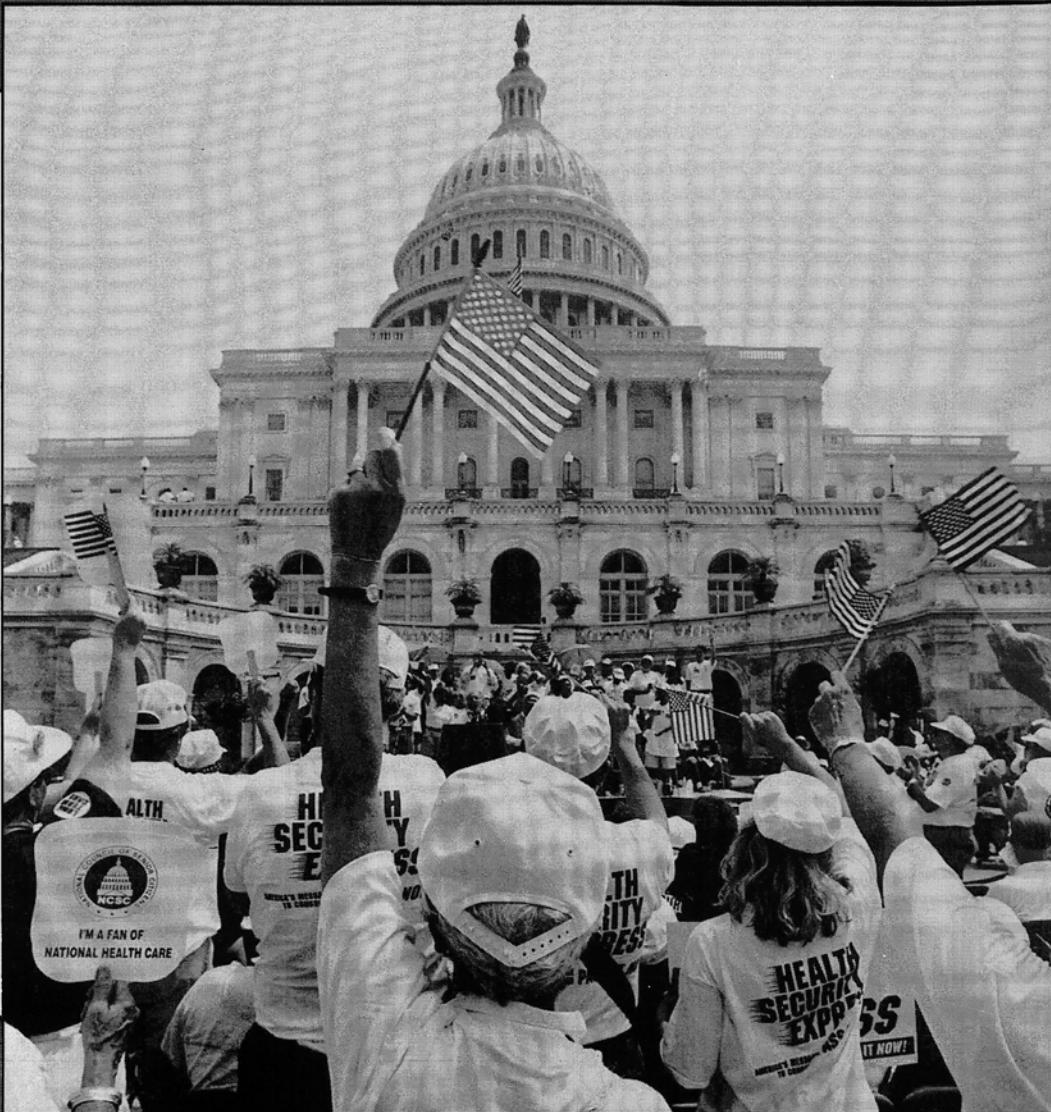

Gingrich, 51, was an assistant history professor at West Georgia College in rural Carrollton, GA, when he started running for Congress. He made it on his third try, in 1978, presenting himself as a moderate with strong family values.

If the United States truly had a health care crisis in 1994, you couldn't have proved it by Congress. Despite the exhortations of President Clinton and the First Lady, the year ended without significant health insurance reform.

In 1993 the president appointed his wife Hillary Rodham Clinton, to head a health care task force. After extensive hearings and much research, the group produced a proposal that became famous -- or infamous -- for its complexity.

Meanwhile, sentiment for change seemed to be limited to the minority of Americans who lacked health insurance or feared losing it. In the absence of a public outcry, there was insufficient support in Congress for the Clinton bill, which called for universal coverage. But the president had promised to veto anything less.

Mrs. Clinton took some of the blame for the failure. She said she had underestimated the effectiveness of the opposition, and didn't realize that the complexity of the administration's plan would turn people off.

O.J. Simpson always lived life on camera, first as a football star, then as a sportscaster, commercial pitchman and actor. But nothing could have prepared him, or his fans, for the role he would play in 1994.

The first reports were surprising enough: Simpson was suspected in the brutal slashing murder of his ex-wife Nicole and her friend Ron Goldman.

But it was his arrest that proved unforgettable. Instead of turning himself in as promised, Simpson had a friend drive him on a rambling jaunt along southern California's freeways. The police followed behind at a discrete distance, heeding a warning from Simpson's driver that O.J. had a gun.

Finally the Bronco returned to Simpson's west Los Angeles house, where he surrendered after nightfall. So began what many called the most famous murder case in American history.

Andre Agassi was one of the best known entrants in the 1994 U.S. Open, but a year of largely indifferent tennis had left him unseeded and unheralded.

So everyone was amazed when he won the tournament -- including Agassi. "I'm still in a state of shock," he told the crowd at the U.S. Tennis Center in New York after receiving a check for $550,000 and the champion's silver trophy. "It's quite amazing what I pulled off."

He did it with relative ease, racing through six other opponents -- four of them seeded -- before a straight set victory in the final over No. 4 seed Michael Stich of Germany.

The champ shared the spotlight with his girlfriend, actress Brooke Shields, who snapped photos as Agassi -- his long hair drawn back into a ponytail, his ears festooned with gold rings -- held up the trophy for all to see.

Tens of thousands of firefighters fought a summer-long battle against scores of fires that burned more than three million acres of woodlands across the parched Western states.

So many young people were fighting fires in Idaho by late August that state colleges allowed pre registered students to return to classes as much as three weeks late. Residents of mountain homes near Boise were routed by a single fire that consumed 27,000 acres.

Flames scorched a range of well-known locations, including the Jackson Hole ski valley and western Wyoming's Grand Teton National Park.

The firefighters ranged from seasoned pros to raw recruits. In California's Sierra Nevada, exhausted disheveled men and women declare victory on August 24 over the 46,800 acre Cottonwood fire that had burned for eight days.

One Forest Service firefighter looked at a bedraggled gathering of singed, soot-covered firefighters as they took a break near Loyalton. The scene, he said looked like "a hippie wedding gone bad."

The civil war in Rwanda began with a plane crash that killed the president. Before the year was over another 500,000 Rwandans had been killed and another 2 million had fled the African nation for the relative safety of squalid refugee camps in Zaire and other neighboring countries.

President Juvenal Habyarimana died in a mysterious plane crash on April 6, igniting long-simmering tensions between the Hutu tribe, which comprises 90 percent of the population, and the Tutsi tribe which accounts for 10 percent.

A rebel group comprised mainly of Tutsies had been trying to unseat the president, who was Hutu. His tribe blamed the Tutsis for his death, and Hutu extremists began a series of mass killings that a United Nations panel later characterized as genocide—"concerted, planned, systematic and methodical."

The violence was awful, but it was nothing new. The Hutus slaughtered thousands of Tutsis in uprisings in 1959 and early 1960s.

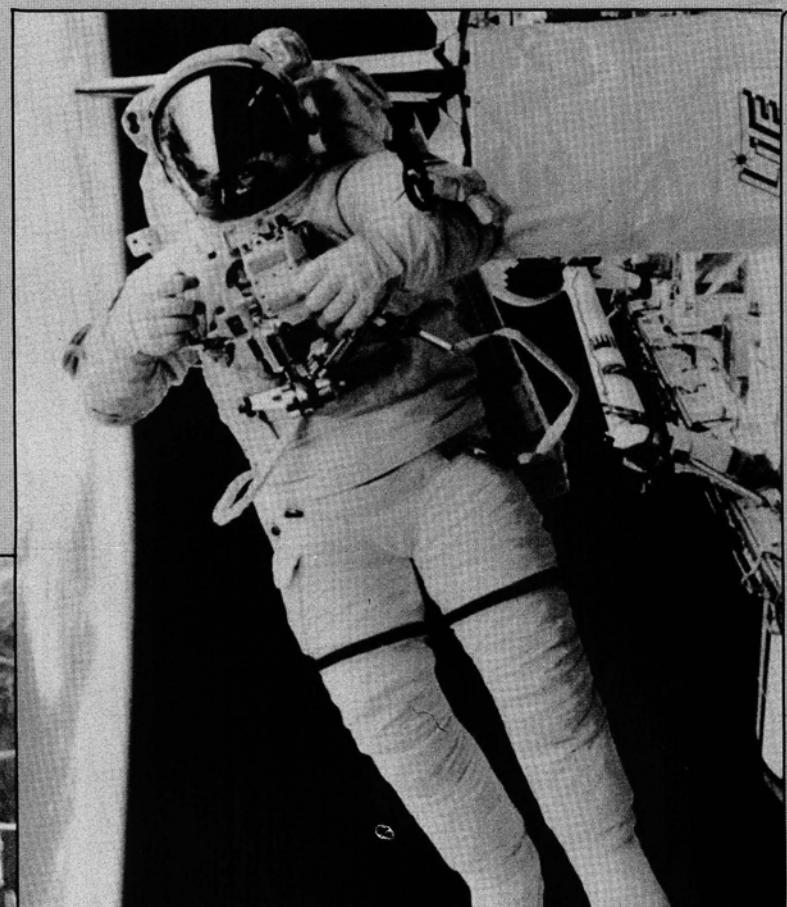

A jet-propelled astronaut unhooked his lifelines to the Space Shuttle Discovery and flew free 150 miles above Earth. IT was the first un-tethered spacewalk in 10 years.

Mark Lee was followed by fellow astronaut Carl Mead. They had but one jet pack between them—it cost $7 million, after all—and had to take turns.

"This thing works like a champ," Lee said as he hovered over Discovery's cargo bay, firing the pack's 24 tiny nitrogen gas jets for propulsion and steering with a joystick.

In the trickiest exercise of the seven hour space-walk each astronaut propelled himself along the length of the shuttle-arm, which was bent at an angle. Then they scooted from the shoulder to the elbow, around the band, up to the end, and then back down again—all without using their hands.

Ohio Northern University 1995

Seniors 1995

A Change of Perspective and Lifestyle
at ONU

Throughout the 1994-95 school year, the campus saw construction of the new Freeman Annex in Dukes memorial Building. The dedication ceremony was held on April 1, 1995 and faculty, staff, students and the community was able to view the addition. The ceremony was in tribute to Dr. Childe Harold Freeman, for whom the annex was named. He was a member of the university staff from 1909 to 1952 and served as English professor and chair of the English department.

The 5,000 square foot addition includes 3 classrooms, refurbished restrooms, one elevator and wheelchair accessibility to all floors.

Through the actual physical addition to Dukes, and the added opportunities this addition will provide, students and staff can find a new perspective at ONU.

On February 6, 1995 at around midnight the Zeta Chapter of Sigma Pi Fraternity International, was devastated by a horrific fire. The fire later determined to be accidental, ripped through the second floor of our three-story house causing damage to all three levels. Five of our brothers were hospitalized for burns, two of which were life-flighted to St. Vincent Medical Center in Toledo for severe burns. Nine other brothers were treated for smoke inhalation and burns, and were later released.

We were all affected by the fire. Our friends were in the hospital, our possessions and home were gone, and our sense of normalcy destroyed. However, the seemingly never-ending support of the Ohio Northern University faculty, students and surrounding community eased our pain tremendously. Everything that we requested was given to us—even things we didn't ask for. It was a great feeling to know that we had so much support in our time of crisis. For this we say thank you.

The brothers of Sigma Pi now face a continual rebuilding process. We hope to have a new house in the fall, and most importantly, we hope to have our injured friends back in school. If there is anything I learned out of the whole experience is that a person needs close friends. Without each other I don't think we could have handled the traumatic experience. We are a strong group and will be back next year even stronger, in our new house. There may not be a better word that better summarizes the brotherhood of Sigma Pi, Zeta Chapter: UNITED.
